Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arthur, of Roanoke, Mr. Beverly Butler and Mr. Sammy Herndon, of Scottsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Slayton and Mrs. Bernard Slayton and three children were guests of Mrs. C. W. Slayton last Thursday. Over the week end visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Millard Slayton, of Farmville, and Allen Jones, of Norton, C. W. Slayton, Jr.'s classmate at D.T.I. in Danville.

Dr. McCall's nephew Mr. and Mrs. David McCall and four children, from Middletown, Ohio, visited in the McCall home from Thursday until Saturday. Other guests during the week and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris, of Lynchburg, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Moran and Billy Star Brightwell.

A joint Daily Vacation Bible School of the three churches here will be conducted in the Elon Baptist Church. Began Monday and will continue through the July 16-26

Guests of Mrs. Bessie Wilkerson through Saturday and Sunday were her son, Mr. Bernard Wilkerson and son, Jackie, of Toms River, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kowalsky and children, of Lynchburg, Mr. and Mrs. Otley Ramsey, Mrs. Eunice Baldwin and Mrs. R. H. Fore.

Pfc Douglas Maxwell of the U. S. Marine Reserve Corps is spending two weeks in training at Camp LeJeune, N. C. Wilbur and Tom Maxwell are both at home now and much improved. Mr. Maxwell's nephew Mr. Marion Maxwell and son, Douglas, of Salt Lake City, Utah, visited in the Maxwell home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Abbitt Terry, of Washington, D. C. arrived here Friday to spend the week end with his mother and relatives. They were entertained Saturday night at a dinner party at Mrs. P. A. Robinson's in Charlotte C. H. The guest included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry and sons of Appomattox and Mrs. H. T. Terry, of Pamplin.

Guests in the Robert Fore home Sunday were Mr. Richard Heverer and son, Dickie, of Buena Vista, Mr. Lacy Heverer and son, Joey, of Churchville, Mr. Bernard Wilkerson, of Toms River, N. J. and Mr. Coley Ramsey, of near Madisonville.

Mrs. E. L. Pankey, Robert Earl Pankey and wife went to Richmond last Monday and visited her son, Alvin Parsons and relatives there until Wednesday.

Mrs. Ida T. Morris is sick.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harvey Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carson and Sylvia, Mr. Lewis Harvey, Mrs. Jessie Harvey, Mrs. Ada Gibson, Mrs. Mildred Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harvey Debbie, Becky and Charlie.

We are so thankful of the good rain, it was so badly needed.

Mrs. David Reepass and baby spent Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harvey.

NARY A WORD

Several days after his father died little Johnny was stopped in the street by a kindly neighbor. "And what were your poor father's last words?" the neighbor asked.

"He didn't have any," replied. "Mother was right to the end."

It's difficult to 'do a column' when notes are too copious. Likewise, when you didn't have if some of the overflow from previous issues. In this case I will top priorize your . . . .

Anyway, let us write a squib about what I am in a conratulatory mood for the lads and lasses who are making full use of the tennis courts on the AHS campus. The new courts are in constant use. I was a member of my college tennis team and practiced faithfully to perfect a serve curve to the left instead of the traditional right. The tremendous spin on the ball dropping it barely over the net and spinning with vigor to curl and then on the next bounce same spinning to the right of your opponent in to the court and then loft one over your head on the back baseline, leaving your opponent nuts that I did it today? No!

I suggest a golf tournament to determine a ranking system of HANDICAP. This to be done by arranging tournaments with other golf clubs. We have golf, that, back in the old days, but, with good grace, to the players in South Boston, Danville and Amelia.

Who rules the roost in the home? Mostly, it is the lady of the home . . . in your home for example. I had an offer to teach English at Virginia school. Also Miss Peggy Brightleaf. But she said she wasn't leaving Appomattox . . . and that's it. If'en I should leave, it would have to be a daily driving distance of Appomattox . . . and I do not like to drive. ## Elon Baptist Plan Music For Revival

Former Pastor Preaching

Special music by a choir trained and conducted by Walter Payne, Jr., and guest soloists will be a feature of the revival services that begin Sunday evening, eight o'clock, in the Elon Baptist Church, Pamplin. The Reverend John S. Moore, of Lexington, Va., and a former pastor, will preach each evening Sunday through Friday. This is the first revival in the church since the renovation of the church sanctuary, and many friends of the church will wish to visit the church since this work has been done.

On Monday night the Pamplin Ruritan Club will attend the service in a body. On other nights in the week various organizations within the church will receive special recognition. The Elon church appreciates the Pamplin Methodist Church's decision to omit its regular mid - week service and encourage its members to attend the revival on Wednesday evening. Guests will be welcome at all services.

On Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock hour, laymen of the church will be in charge of a church service in preparation for the revival services beginning that night.

Rescue Squad Will Hold Public Meeting

The Appomattox Rescue Squad has invited the public to attend their meeting Wednesday night, July 31 at the Avalon Club. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m. An expert will be there to demonstrate mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Dark Tobacco

Wrappers To Bring Top Market Prices

Dunnington - Beach Tobacco Company announced today that demand was going to be good for Austrian style tobaccos, "A" and "B" wrappers.

J. William Dunnington, chairman of the board of Dunnington-Beach Tobacco Company of Farmville and Blackstone, said: "We have received word from our friends abroad that they are extremely short on Austrian style tobaccos, "A" and "B" grades; and that for the next two years they are willing to pay a price that will be satisfactory to the farmers for such tobacco, provided that it is handled properly and kept free of flea bugs and holes."

"Any and all farmers desiring to take advantage of this information are invited to do so and our friends promise to pay a price that will be satisfactory to the farmer," the Farmville tobacco dealer said.

Mr. Dunnington added: "We know it is a bad year, but we still hope for rain, and we hope you can do something toward raising and handling this style of tobacco."

Urges Farmers To Observe Safety Week

Governor Albertis S. Harrison, Jr., today issued an official statement urging Virgians to observe Farm Safety Week, July 21 - 27.

The Governor pointed out that "increased emphasis on the safety and productive efficiency of farm families is vital to assure a continuing abundance of food and fiber for the well-being of all our people."

This is the 20th annual national Farm Safety Week. This year's theme is "Inspection Plus Correction Equals Protection."

For many years farming has ranked as the third most hazardous occupation. Only mining, including quarrying and petroleum drilling, and construction have higher death rates.

In 1961 the national rate from all accidents fell to an all - time low of 50.4 deaths per 100,000 population. The farm average rose to 58.8.

The Virginia Rural Safety Council, Virginia Department of Agriculture, and other leading farm organizations and agencies are cooperating with Governor Harrison in his plea to reduce farm accidents.

State President Installs Officers

State Jaycee President told Appomattox officers and their guests on Saturday that accomplishments are guideposts — not beanpoles." "We can accomplish anything we want," he said, in installing new officers for the coming year. Outstanding Jaycee of the Year award went to outgoing president Billy Chenault, shown above at the far left. Second row, Holiday Lake's 4-H camp was the scene of the barbecue and dance that followed a full afternoon of swimming, boating and horseshoes. Internal vice president Sam Davidson is shown first row left, plus new president Jim Cobb; state Jaycee president Ward Edwards, of Lynchburg; state vice-president, Region 6, Preston Wilson of Blackstone; and external vice-president Harry Gordon Lawson. In the second row: Director David Caldwell; State Director Bob Netherland; Director Calvin Tanner, and outgoing president Billy Chenault. Officers not pictured include director Walter Carson; director Dr. S. R. Lawson; treasurer Billy Connor; secretary, Bobby Phelps; and executive vice presidents Ed Cawthorne.

Ground Breaking For New Courthouse Friday, 1 P. M.

OLD APPOMATTOX COURTHOUSE AS PICTURED ABOUT 1890

Watkins Abbitt Will Speak

A general invitation has been issued to the public to be present at Appomatox Court House National Park Friday at one p.m. to witness be ground breaking for the Old Court House reconstruction.

Representative Watkins M. Abbitt is scheduled to speak at one p.m. State Senator Charles T. Moses will also be present plus other federal, state, county, and local officials. Congressman Abbitt has done much to encourage the development of the park and has been particularly interested in restoring the Old court House, said superintendent Grover E. Steele.

Jamerson To Build Ct. House

Late in June J. E. Jamerson and Sons, of Appomattox, were awarded the contract to reconstruct the Old Court House with a low bid of $125,354. Orville Carroll, architect from National Park Service's Eastern Office of Design and Construction in Philadelphia is resident architect supervising design and construction. J. Everette Fauber, of Lynchburg, drew up working plans for the reconstruction.

'New Focal Point'

Superintendent Steele stated Tuesday that the Court House, furnished and equipped as a modern visitors' center, will become the local point of the village. "Much has been accomplished in major restoration of existing buildings that we see today,' said Steele. "The current construction program of fences, outbuildings and the proposed restoration of the old plank road will all have an important effect."

Superintendent Steele, appointed just last month to succeed Thomas F. Norris as superintendent at the Park said that he regards the coming months as a "real challenge and a challenging period until our centennial celebration in 1965."

Deacon-In-Charge St. Ann's Church

Reverend J. D. Adams has been assigned by the Bishop of Southern Virginia, the Rt. Rev. George P. Gunn, D. D. to the Cure of Souls in the Appomattox - Buckingham field, and to a portion of the college work at Longwood and Hampden-Sydney. The Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Adams are now living in Appomattox in the home formerly occupied by the R. L. Bumgardners.

REV. JACK ADAMS

The Rev. Mr. Adams was born in Manteo, North Carolina, and was educated in the public schools of Fort Pierce, Fla. He enlisted in the United States Navy in 1940, and served for 20 years, retiring as a Chief Petty Officer. He then engaged in studies at the former William and Mary of Norfolk — now Old Dominion College — and has recently completed the three year course at the School of Theology of the University of the South, Sewance, Tennessee. He is married to the former Miss Francetta White of Manteo, and they have two daughters, Grace and Lillian.

Three 4-H'ers Attend Camp

By Lynda Hall

Lynda Hall, Danny Hernecall and Carroll Goodrich were among the 108 senior 4-H Club members, adult leaders, extension agents and instructors who attended the State 4-H Conservation Camp at 4-H Camp Parrar, July 15-20. Top 4-H Club leaders attended the program which emphasized restriction in forestry, wildlife soil and water conservation, entomology, and social sciences. The classes were taught by professional workers from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. Wise and intelligent use of our natural resources was emphasized.

Activities in addition to classes included swimming in the ocean, athletics, teen-age discussions, social games, archery, construction of model farms which showed conservation practices, and campfire, vesper, and talent programs.

Senior 4-H members learned how to serve better as junior 4-H leaders because of the many leader training opportunities.

Each camper attended through a partial scholarship given by Mr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Federal Cartridge Corporation in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Campers between the ages of 15 and 20 attended.

The camp was enjoyed by all the climax of a wonderful week was the candlelight service Friday night on the vespers noal.

Times Adds New Correspondent

Mrs. Margaret C. Saul, Route 2, has been added to our growing list of correspondents who keep readers up to date on county happenings. Many thanks, Mrs. Saul! Local news is always "big news" for our growing number of readers.

County Library Reopens Monday

The county library will reopen Monday, July 29, following painting and the installation of new lights. Patrons and the public are invited to see the newly painted interior.

County Youth Hikes 50 Miles

Thomas Horsley Harrison, of Appomattox, was one of a group of seven boys who completed a 50 mile hike Friday, July 19.

The boys, led by Rev. William Gravatt, pastor of Burkeville Baptist Church, began their hike at the top of Long Mountain and spent several days along the Appalachian Trail to reach the Royal Ambassador Camp at the Peaks of Otter. They cooked meals along the way, and each evening had campfire discussions in Christian living.
